TIPS - TI PRINT SHOP

TIPS VER 1.5

First the bad news: this version of TIPS will not run using MYARC XBII and is being released as a TI XB only release.

Now the good news: this version of TIPS has the following improvements:

- 1) COLOR capability for those with printers that use ESC-"r"-# to control ribbon color. The NX1000 Rainbow and Epson JX80 appear to use this. This is controlled by a new OTHER sub-menu that you can access by selecting the CARD or SIGN functions. Two colors can be specified, PCOLOR and 2COLOR -- PCOLOR is the main color used and 2COLOR will be used to print the VERSE on INSIDE of CARD and for the printing of non-graphics on LABEL; also an OFFCOLOR is included if color selection is incorrectly chosen (this will stop issuing ESC-"r"-# commands only)
- 2) Almost all printing has been speeded up by finding XB PAB for the printer and sending graphics print line directly from assembler routines.
- 3) Elimination of the two processing files TIPSTAB1 and TIPSTAB2, as all processing is in assembler routines.
- 4) A faster VIEW routine that is somewhat more clear as an image but is wider.
- 5) Faster 1XART and 2XART conversions using assembler routines that also use XB PAB for output.
- 6) THE LABEL routine has been improved by asking how many labels you want to print after printing the prior group to ease line-up processing and loops this way until 0 (ZERO) is specified.

Listed below are the functions and their use. All new or changed functions have an * to indicated a revised operation.

LIST	This will print the names of the images on the current image disk.
PROCESS	This allows selection of the various print/output functions.
REDO	This allows selection/specification of a drive to be used for the images.
SELECT	This allows specifying a 2 character prefix to specify a group of graphic files to process. *NOTE: the program will look for GR?? images on the specified image disk and if none are found will ask for specification of the IMAGE prefix to use.
FONT	This allows loading TIPSFONT file 0 through 4.
END	This terminates the program and resets the printer to normal line spacing.
1XART
2XART	These create instance (_I) files for use in other programs. 1X produces 11 by 14 images and 2X produces 22 by 24 images. *NOTE: DO NOT ENTER _I AS PART OF THE FILE NAME.
DSK	The program reads the file information off the currently assigned image disk and asks for the image name.
-1	(= and / will also work) The program will advance or back-up one image from the currently selected image.
REDO	This sub-function allows specification of another drive for image processing.
PIC	This was PICTURE. The program will print a large graphic of the currently selected image in either BANNER (across) or TOTEMPOLE (down) format.
MSG	The program will print a large graphic of a user supplied message using the resident TIPSFONT file or if the prefix for IMAGES is either FN## or FT## they may be used for the message. FN## images will have upper/lower case definitions, while FT## will have only upper case. A new specification of which FONT CODE to use will determine which type will be used. If you specify 0 for the FONT CODE the current TIPSFONT file will be used, else the FONT CODE will be used to generate the IMAGE name to print. This new processing will only be in effect if the FN## or FT## prefix has been selected prior to specifying the MSG option. This message will be printed in either BANNER (across) or TOTEMPOLE (down) format.

NOTE: the program converts lower case alpha to upper case prior to printing if using the resident TIPSFONT file or FT## images. This option will allow you to specify what images are POSITIVE IMAGES or NEGATIVE IMAGES.

NEG	This option will allow you to specify what images are POSITIVE IMAGES or NEGATIVE IMAGES.
IMAGE	This allows the user to enter another image name without the program reading the file information on the disk.
CARD	This allows the user to go to the CARD subfunction menu to create a greeting type card.
SIGN	This allows the user to go to the SIGN submenu to create either HEAT transfer or POSTER printouts.
FFD	This will generate a FORMFEED command to the printer.
VIEW	This displays a reduced image on the screen of the selected graphic. This is somewhat distorted, but should enable the user to see what the graphic looks like. A tone will sound when the graphic has been displayed, and pressing any key will return to processing.
LABEL	This goes to the mailing LABEL subfunction for creation of labels.
*OTHER	This sub-menu can be invoked by selecting CARD, SIGN, or specifying to PAUSE when printing CALENDAR. Its options are:
FONT	This will allow loading a TIPSFONT file.
*PCOLOR	Selecting this will allow specifying a Primary (use) color.
*2COLOR	Selecting this will allow specifying a secondary color.
*NOCOLOR	Selecting this will indicate that a color escape sequence is not to be issued in the event PCOLOR or 2COLOR was selected.
RETURN	To return from OTHER sub-menu.

CARD processing has the added capability of printing a VERSE etc. on the inside left side of the card as the inside IMAGE is printed. This may be 14 lines of 35 characters each. The program will read a DV80 that is created by this or any other program you have, but will truncate each line to a maximum of 35 characters. When printed the verse will be centered, based upon the length of the longest line.

FRONT	This will allow printing the front of a card. This will print all entries upside down.
MSG	This allows printing of a message up to 15 characters long.
IMAGE	This will print the specified image
SPACE	This will cause a gap to be printed
BACK	This will return to the CARD submenu for INSIDE or other processing.
FF	This will cause a FORMFEED to be sent to the printer.
INSIDE	This will allow printing the inside of the card.
MSG	This allows printing of a message up to 15 characters long
VERSE	This will transfer to a subfunction to allow entry of a 14 line verse to be printed at the same time as the image inside is printed.
ENTER	This allows entry of 14 lines of 35 characters maximum each.
LOAD	This will LOAD from a user specified file a prepared verse. This file is specified as a DV80 file. NOTE: if the screen goes black at this time, place the TIPS program disk with TIPSDV80 file on it into drive 1 and press the enter key. An open error has occurred and this is the recovery procedure.
SAVE	This will SAVE the 14 line VERSE in memory to a user specified file.
CLR	This will CLEAR the VERSE in memory.
UPDATE	This will allow the user to reenter a line of the memory verse.
PRINT	This will PRINT the current verse in memory for inspection.
BACK	This will return to the INSIDE selection menu.
IMG-VER	This will print the inside IMAGE and VERSE if there.
FF	This will generate a FORMFEED to the printer.
SPACE	This will cause a SPACE gap on the printout.
BACK	This will return to the CARD subfunction menu.

The sequence to generate a CARD is as follows:

CARD
MSG	This will be the bottom line on FRONT of CARD.
SPACE
IMAGE	This will print the FRONT IMAGE.
SPACE
MSG	This will be the top line on FRONT of CARD.
SPACE
BACK	This goes BACK to CARD submenu.
INSIDE
VERSE	This allows ENTRY LOAD etc. of VERSE if desired.
BACK	This returns BACK from VERSE subfunction.
MSG	This will print the INSIDE top line.
BACK
EXIT	This leaves CARD subfunction and allows selection of an image for printing on the INSIDE of the CARD.
CARD	This returns to card function.
INSIDE
IMG-VER	This prints the INSIDE IMAGE and VERSE.
MSG	This prints INSIDE bottom line 1.
MSG	This prints INSIDE bottom line 2.
FF	This advances to next page.

LABEL	This selects the mailing LABEL subfunction menu. An additional option to print the image only 1 time is included. Prior to this, images were printed twice.
HEADER+3	This allows for 4 lines of information, the first being printed in enlarged characters
4-LINE	This allows for printing 4 lines all being the same size.
1-IN	This will print the mailing label information on 1 inch centers, which is the standard for mailing labels.
3-7/8-IN	This will print the mailing label information on 3-1/2 inch centers, which is for envelopes.

This program was written to enjoy Ron Wolcott's TIPS files before converting them to TI Artist Instances. It will enable you to easily see Ron's pictures. The program is designed to display an entire TIPS file of 126 pictures in a few minutes.

This program can be loaded from the Editor/Assembler option 5 menu, the Funnelweb option 3 menu or any assembly program file loader. The program name is CTIPSVUA. File CTIPSVUB will be also be loaded automatically. Once the program is loaded, its diskette may be removed. Ron's TXT and XXX files must be on the same disk.

Once loaded the program will ask you to "Enter minimum view time delay (0-10) seconds:" The is the time the instance is displayed, exclusive of file access time. I normally enter zero (0). If the view time is three (3) seconds or less, the last instance will be displayed for three (3) seconds. The program will next ask, "Enter TIPS xxx filename:". A typical filename is "dsk1.grabxxx".

This program was written to speed up the conversion from Ron Wolcott's TIPS files to TI Artist Instances. Ron Wolcott did an excellent job but his conversion takes too long. This program generates its single size instances in less than 25 seconds per conversion with my TI disk controller. It takes less than 9 seconds per conversion using a myarc ramdisk for source and destination. The most tedious part of the program is the typing in of the instance filenames. I have tried to speed this up by eliminating the typing of the output devicename and by eliminating the typing of the '_I' to each filename. I hope that this program allows more enjoyment of Ron's instances.

This program can be loaded from the Editor/Assembler option 5 menu, the Funnelweb option 3 menu or any assembly program file loader. The program name is CTIPS_IA. File CTIPS_IB will be also be loaded automatically. Once the program is loaded, its diskette may be removed. The program requires more than a ssd disk drive since Ron's TIPS files run to 357 sectors per pair. Both the TXT and the XXX files must be on the same source disk.

Once loaded the program will ask you to "Enter TIPS xxx filename:". A typical filename is "dsk1.grabxxx". Note that filenames can be entered in upper or lower case. Next the program will ask you to "Enter picture name:". The picture you wish to start conversions with must be entered at this point. Typical entries could be "!", or "armadillo", or "barney rubble". The picture name must be valid for the TIPS data set. Once again upper or lower case may be entered. If just "enter" is depressed for the picture name, the program will search for the first picture in the set. Upon finding the name, it will display "Found picture: picture name". The program will then display "Enter output devicename (i.e. dsk2)". The program will then display "Enter Instance filename:". Type in the output filename, i.e. "armadill". I used Ron Wolcott's suggested name for instance from his "LIST/xx" files. Once again upper or lower case may be used.

c99 TIPS Slide Show V1.0

This program is designed to continuously display all the pictures in a TIPS data file. The program will display all the pictures sequentially until the end of the file is reached, and then will start at the beginning of the file all over again.

This program can be loaded from the Editor/Assembler option 5 menu, the Funnelweb option 3 menu or any assembly program file loader. The program name is CTIPSHOA. File CTIPSHOB will be also be loaded automatically. Once the program is loaded, its diskette may be removed. Only Ron's TXT file must be on the disk when you run this program.

Once loaded the program will ask you to "Enter minimum view time delay (0-10) seconds:" This is the time the instance is displayed, exclusive of file access time. I normally enter zero (0). The program will then display "Catalog a drive for txt filenames?". Enter a 'y' for yes or any other key for no. If you answer 'y', the program will then display "Drive Number:". Press the drive number of the disk that you want cataloged. After displaying the disk name and the txt filenames, the program will display "Another catalog? (y/n)". Enter a 'y' for yes of any other key for no. The catalog function will continue until you answer no. The program will next ask, "Enter TIPS txt filename:". A typical filename is "dsk1.grabtxt". Note that filenames can be entered in upper or lower case. The program will now open the designated file and display the first picture.

The automatic part of the program now starts to operate. The program will load the data for the next picture. It will then wait the minimum display time, before displaying the next picture. The program will not display the picture names. When the program reaches the end of the TIPS file, it will automatically reopen the file and start displaying the pictures all over again. The program will keep displaying pictures until control 'c' is depressed. The next line will read, "c99 Exit-Rerun (Y/N)". Depressing 'y' will rerun the program and depressing 'n' will take you to the title screen.
